One out of ten women will develop breast cancer.

Prhaps the two most frightening words to a women are breast cancer. The number one killer of famales, breast cancer is a disease caused by an uncontrolled growth of abnormal cells in the breast tissue. But with detection, effective treatment can be started immediately, therefore improving the patient's prognosis. The survival rate among women who find cancer before it is noticeable is 97 percent.

To answer the need for early detection of breast disease, St. Elizabeth Medical Center has established the Breast Diagnostic Program, which provides mammographies at almost one-fourth the cost of such procedures being done elsewhere. A convehient diagnostic procedure, mammograms provide patients with high quality, high sensitivity images with minimal radiation exposure.

Following the American Cancer Society's guidelines, this simple, painless exam is currently the best method of detecting breast disease. The ACS recommends all women age 35 to 40 have an initial, routine mammogram; diagnostic exams periodically between age 40 and 50; and yearly exams after age 50-really know where to begin.

Any suggestions?

A. Yes, start with your local bank. Young people should be introduced to the services of a bank as soon as possible. Regular savings, even though small, prepare your son for greater future responsibility. Eventually, young people should have the freedom to control a passbook and make deposits and withdrawals. Later, they should be encouraged to open checking accounts to help them understand simple banking activities like making deposits, writing checks and balancing the check book. Perhaps their first account should be a joint one with a parent or legal custodian. However, the best training your children will get is your good example. Your attitude toward money — how you talk about it, spend it, save it — makes a great impression. If you want to introduce your child to banking, see one of our officers. When they advise you about money management . . . You Can BANK On It!
